Comment on strengths and weaknesses of the instructor	One of my favorite professors, she is amazing. Very receptive to questions and emails. Encourages class engagement. Gets to know students and truly cares about our well being. I'm bad at Econ but I think I will walk out of this class with a good grade. She's a great teacher.
Comment on strengths and weaknesses of the course	No unnecessary work, very helpful coursework.
Give suggestions on how the course or how the instruction could be improved.	Nothing, great class.

Comment on strengths and weaknesses of the instructor	Overall, I had a really great experience with Sarah. She always tries to get us involved in the material and make sure we understand it. The only weakness I can think of is that Sarah does go through the lectures pretty quickly. I think students would benefit from it being slowed down a little bit.

Comment on strengths and weaknesses of the instructor	Really awesome with student questions and very personable. Engaged the class very well. Also took student feedback on how difficult the tests were.
Comment on strengths and weaknesses of the course	Tests were a good level of difficulty, course also had practice tests that were helpful as well.
-----	-----
Comment on strengths and weaknesses of the instructor	Strengths: attempted to make the class interactive and easy-going. Provided proper assistance to the students. Weaknesses: Tries too hard to engage students in the class, resulting in decreased interaction altogether.
Comment on strengths and weaknesses of the course	Perfectly captures the essential components of the subject.

Comment on strengths and weaknesses of the instructor	Sarah Bainn was a lovely professor to have this semester! She was receptive of the input of students and provided plenty of resources for success in her class.
Comment on strengths and weaknesses of the course	The material was presented in a typical slideshow and interactive top hat questions were utilized too which was helpful.
Give suggestions on how the course or how the instruction could be improved.	I would like if more videos further explaining various topics were posted as additional resources, but overall I enjoyed this class and professor!

Comment on strengths and weaknesses of the instructor	She explained material well and lectures were engaging. She was receptive to emails and was flexible in meeting outside of her designated office hours.
Comment on strengths and weaknesses of the course	The lecture notes were extremely helpful to refer back to. The unit quizzes had similar questions to the exams so they were helpful to review before an exam.

Comment on strengths and weaknesses of the instructor	Uplifting and respectable instructor who incentivizes participation and group learning. I have to begin by saying I personally am a student who struggles greatly with abstract concepts like math and economics, which may be necessary when considering my perspective on the course. The instructor is always prepared and considerate of others and owns up to any mistakes made, which is very admirable. The only issues I had were the way some of the information was explained was difficult for my physical learning style to comprehend. It was a little fast paced and I felt as though sometimes when concepts were re-explained they still did not make much sense, however she always offered to explain the concept again and again. She demonstrates great patience and understanding.
Comment on strengths and weaknesses of the course	The group setting and learning was fantastic and by far the best class that made that happen this semester. I felt as though the only weakness of this course was the fact that it was hardly explained how economic concepts work in the real world until the Economics Concept Map final project at the end, and rather focused on the ideals, rules, and model scenarios. Perhaps this is for good reason, as microeconomics is a very complicated and abstract concept, but I feel as though having some sort of scenarios that relate to the real world (like how we explored a good in the real world and how economic concepts apply to it) would have been helpful when learning different concepts to drive it all home.
Give suggestions on how the course or how the instruction could be improved.	I would have more emphasis on practical application relative to the real world alongside the group activities we were already doing throughout the course. Perhaps looking at real world products or market graphs would help the slow students like me wrap our heads around the economic concepts better.

Comment on strengths and weaknesses of the instructor	Absolutely fantastic teacher, I have nothing bad to say about her. I like how she kept everyone involved in the class and was always re-explaining stuff to make sure we all understood it.
Comment on strengths and weaknesses of the course	The course was really well laid out and organized, the only complaint I have is that the slides were a bit overwhelming with the amount of information they presented, and the majority we didn't even need to know.
Give suggestions on how the course or how the instruction could be improved.	Simplify the slides to focus on the important concepts and cut out unnecessary information

Comment on strengths and weaknesses of the instructor	Strength would be the instructor was very engaging with the students and provided feedback on anything we had. Not many weaknesses.
Comment on strengths and weaknesses of the course	I think the material learned and the amount of interaction among students was a strength of the course. I can't think of a weakness.

Give suggestions on how the course or how the instruction could be improved.	I don't have any suggestions for this one.

Comment on strengths and weaknesses of the instructor	I think she did a great job explaining the concepts despite going slightly fast.
Comment on strengths and weaknesses of the course	honestly one weakness could be not enough assignments outside of class which sounds crazy but there was usually only one quiz a week that was very simple to complete.
Give suggestions on how the course or how the instruction could be improved.	I think she did a great job

Comment on strengths and weaknesses of the instructor	strength- always offered help when needed weakness- format of tests/questions
Comment on strengths and weaknesses of the course	more one on one in this course/hw assignments

Comment on strengths and weaknesses of the instructor	Genuinely one of the best teachers I've had at NCSU thusfar. Her class has been the only one where I've felt comfortable enough to actively participate every day regardless of if i know the information or not.
Comment on strengths and weaknesses of the course	Class Materials were perfect. There really wasn't a need to read the chapters because she explained everything so well.
Give suggestions on how the course or how the instruction could be improved.	Increase group discussion. The class was very large so breaking off into smaller groups to facilitate more digestible conversation may have been helpful.

Comment on strengths and weaknesses of the instructor	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Paid attention to each student and gave critical advice regarding what they were struggling on - Went over material multiple times if a student/class did not understand - Weekly emails or reminders - Allowed students to reach out if they ever needed to, very responsive and understanding
